PROFILE

Any researcher not officially affiliated with the College (i.e., non-student, non-faculty, non-staff) wishing to conduct research involving human participants at the College must request permission from the Provost or his/her designee. The external researcher will be asked to follow the Academic Affairs policy on external research. This policy covers requests from external researchers who wish to survey or study a sample or the entire population of any College constituency. Requests for an individual's participation in a research project should be handled by the individual who receives the request.
